This four day-three night manscape vacation package includes: a sparring session for four with the 2003 Heavyweight Champion George Foster Kelly, a beginners dive trip; 5 dives (night or day), a complimentary scotch cocktail or a bucket of Stingray beers, and cigar upon check-in. Winter rates start at $1,290 per person, while summer rates start at $1,130. Additional activities can include; a bioluminescent or mangrove kayak tour, a visit to Queen Elizabeth II Botanical Park to see the 5-foot endangered Blue Iguana and more. Please identify your travel itinerary when making a reservation to reap the extra benefits that are exclusive to the manscape package.

Diving on the East End is like charting undiscovered wilderness as it offers over 55 dive sites, with many others waiting to be discovered. Divers can expect the unexpected as drop-offs or wall dives offer a seascape of dramatic, well-preserved splendor and coloration, and some of the best frontier dive sites on the island. This past January Scuba Diving Magazine rated Grand Cayman, Grand Cayman Island number two out of five as the top wall diving destination in the Caribbean Atlantic. What makes wall diving so attractive is divers swim next to the reef as opposed to above it, getting up-close and personal with mammoth caverns, huge overhands and pinnacles, with mazes of tunnels and chutes that open up to the walls and entice exploration. To bring these dive opportunities to guests' of the Reef; the resort opened The Beach Locker, a water sports shop and a satellite operation for Ocean Frontiers, Grand Cayman's premier diving and snorkeling company, PADI certified and one of the first Grand Cayman dive operations to be certified by National Geographic. "We are excited and proud to have a partnership with Ocean Frontiers as they extend our vision of hospitality, conservation and memorable adventures everyday, on every dive and to everyone no matter their degree of dive mastery," states Tom McCallum, Director of The Reef Resort."
